

Im here, in endless nights, wandering through the moonlight, it stood there and watched she shed her beams around me and I fell Nor the moon, nor the day, could bring me the day before the lights, when im on a height shouting And the wolves are crying out my name, they are crying out my name - and I hear them vultures whispering, they are crying out my name Im here and you're there, basking in the headlights - like a deer You, me, we Are mocking the huntsmen, crying out their name They slay the rest dreams of freedom The blood of the beast that we were given of, gave us the lust for living, engraved in our hearts Nature is calling us, let me in, let me out - let us race with the wind and never think again - the hounds will set us free They are ripping us, poking us, raping out thoughts, we're losing our hopes I'll lend you the silver bullet and this won't happen again, please, forgive me We are skinned alive, left hanging on the walls, they don't care, we will take our toll Im bound to be crazy for roam, I need to be crazy for howl, I want to be mad enough to live my life, get peace Call the moon and set the wolves free, dance with them and let me be
