

I don't want to see another day I am burning my life away Depression, anxiety and tearless tears Roaming through my veins, my deepest fears Too late to change the course, full steam ahead I wont stop until I am dead I shoot that shit into my veins My only way to ease these pains My life is, shades of grey It gives you some, then it betrays This damned and forgotten place You try to smile and it slaps your face Just go ahead, point gun to my head Pull the trigger, but make sure I'm dead Just go ahead, point gun to my head Pull the trigger, and make me bleed Leave me bleed to death Death is eternal God of man